Sir,

I have successfully installed myself into "Belleville East", and have been frantically trying to uncover the many secrets behind "Belleville East High School". As of yet I have not been able to come up with any definite conclusions, but I have run into a few shady characters. The following is a composite report of the activities throughout the year. I hope that you will be able to see, through these, exactly what kind of people we are dealing with. More information to come later.

1. The curriculum at Belleville East has both breadth and depth and is designed for students ranging from the gifted to those with extreme handicaps. Throughout the four-year experience, a student is encouraged to select classes basic to his general education and designed for his personal ability level. Honors classes are offered in several departments, including English, mathematics and science. Special Education programs serve mentally and physically handicapped students. Trainably and educably mentally handicapped students, children with learning disorders, autistic students and the physically handicapped spend their education day on campus with the other high school students in the community. And, during the junior and senior years, students are encouraged to select courses corresponding with their future vocational and educational plans. 2. The professional staff at Belleville East is experienced, well-qualified, and dedicated. With a majority of the faculty hired before or immediately following the opening of the campus in the late 1960's, the staff's remarkable stability over the years has contributed to the continuity of education. Their diversified backgrounds reflect extensive formal preparation, as well as a wide range of co-curricular experiences. The Belleville East faculty is a major part of the outstanding education offered by the school. 3. In addition to the regular curricular offerings, students are afforded a wide range of extra-curricular activities. Participation in these activities is encouraged by the school. Activity involvement in extra-curricular activities enhances the students' regular curricular experiences, as well. East is extremely proud of both the quality and quantity of the extracurricular program. In addition to the more obvious athletic program, East is represented state-wide each year by outstanding speech and debate teams; a theatre program; an expanding graphic arts program utilizing commercial art classes; the monthly newspaper, and the 300-page yearbook; a variety show; a student produced literary magazine published yearly; choral and instrumental programs; mathematics teams; and an extremely active Student Council directing the completion of numerous events during the year. 4. A full array of guidance services are provided by the Belleville East counseling staff. The guidance process begins during the spring of the eighth grade year when all perspective freshmen are administered high school entrance examinations. The counseling staff discusses the test results, along with an evaluation of grade school records, during an individual conference prior to the freshman year. During this discussion with the perspective student and parents, a curriculum plan is designed for the individual's ability level and interests. Throughout the four years in high school, the counseling staff assists the students with educational and vocational planning as well as working with personal problems. 5. East's educational facilities are extremely up-to-date. Both the biological and physical science laboratories compare with any high school in the state. Recently, the school purchased a student utilized, central computer and smaller, individualized instruction computers. In 1977, a new vocationally oriented building was completed. The structure houses the auto and welding shops and classrooms designed for the physically handicapped. In addition to the typical classroom concept, the art, business, homemaking, industrial education and reading laboratories are modern and accessible to all students. 6. Belleville East has a supportive central office administration and non-certified staff. The routines of the school's daily operations are handled efficiently with the help of the secretarial, cafeteria, and maintenance staffs. 7. Belleville East strikes a highly desirable balance in achieving an orderly, well disciplined, and relaxed learning atmosphere. Unnecessary restrictions are held to the learning atmosphere. Unnecessary restrictions are held to the minimum necessary for the orderly functioning of our educational community. East strives to maintain a realistic understanding of the students' present needs and future demands. A smooth, effective transition from high school to the rigors of beyond is paramount in the East philosophy.

THE MADWOMAN OF CHAILLOT

Belleville East High School's East Theatre Company presented its annual All-School Fall Play, The Madwoman of Chailot (pronounced Shy y6) by Jean Giradoux, on Friday, October 23 and Saturday, October 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the B-100 lecture-study center of the East Campus. The play, which features Martha Teagle as the madwoman, Jeff Bergman as the President, and Jeff Kopis as the Ragpicker, is a gentle satire of the "J.R." syndrome in American culture. The President and his cronies plot to blow up Paris so that they can get to the oil which is believed to be underneath. When the madwoman hears of the scheme, she and her friends determine to block the plan with their own counterattack. The climax of the play occurs in a tense courtroom scene in which the madwoman succeeds in convincing the jury that Paris must be saved regardless of the riches below.

Also featured in the case were Gina Watson, Rich Welch, David Grove, Debbie Frazier, Steve Ferguson, Amy Logsdon, Melanie Applegate, Tracy Overby, Amy Garrett, Donna Smith, Cyndee Slonaker, Faith Lannom, Greg Hollerbach, Suzanne Conner, Don Crossland, Richard Cook, Lendy Sanford, and Wendy Sanford. Director of the group was Mr. Frank Winslow assisted by senior Michelle LePere.

Mr. Ron Isom directed the technical crews which worked on the two elaborate sets the play required. Act One included a lovely, impressionistic view of Paris and the Seine, while Act Two took place in a foreboding basement. Helping Mr. Isom on this massive project were: Student Technical Director, Bryan Devasher, Virginia Hayes, Rich Welch, Stacy Stump, Jeff Bergman, Beth Meidinger, Elaine Meidiner, Steve Senchal, Kelly Harriman, Beverly Harris, Keith McWilliams, Donna Smith, Kathy Miller, Lisa Koeller, Michelle Koeller, and Pat Mayden.

LOYALTY

WEEK

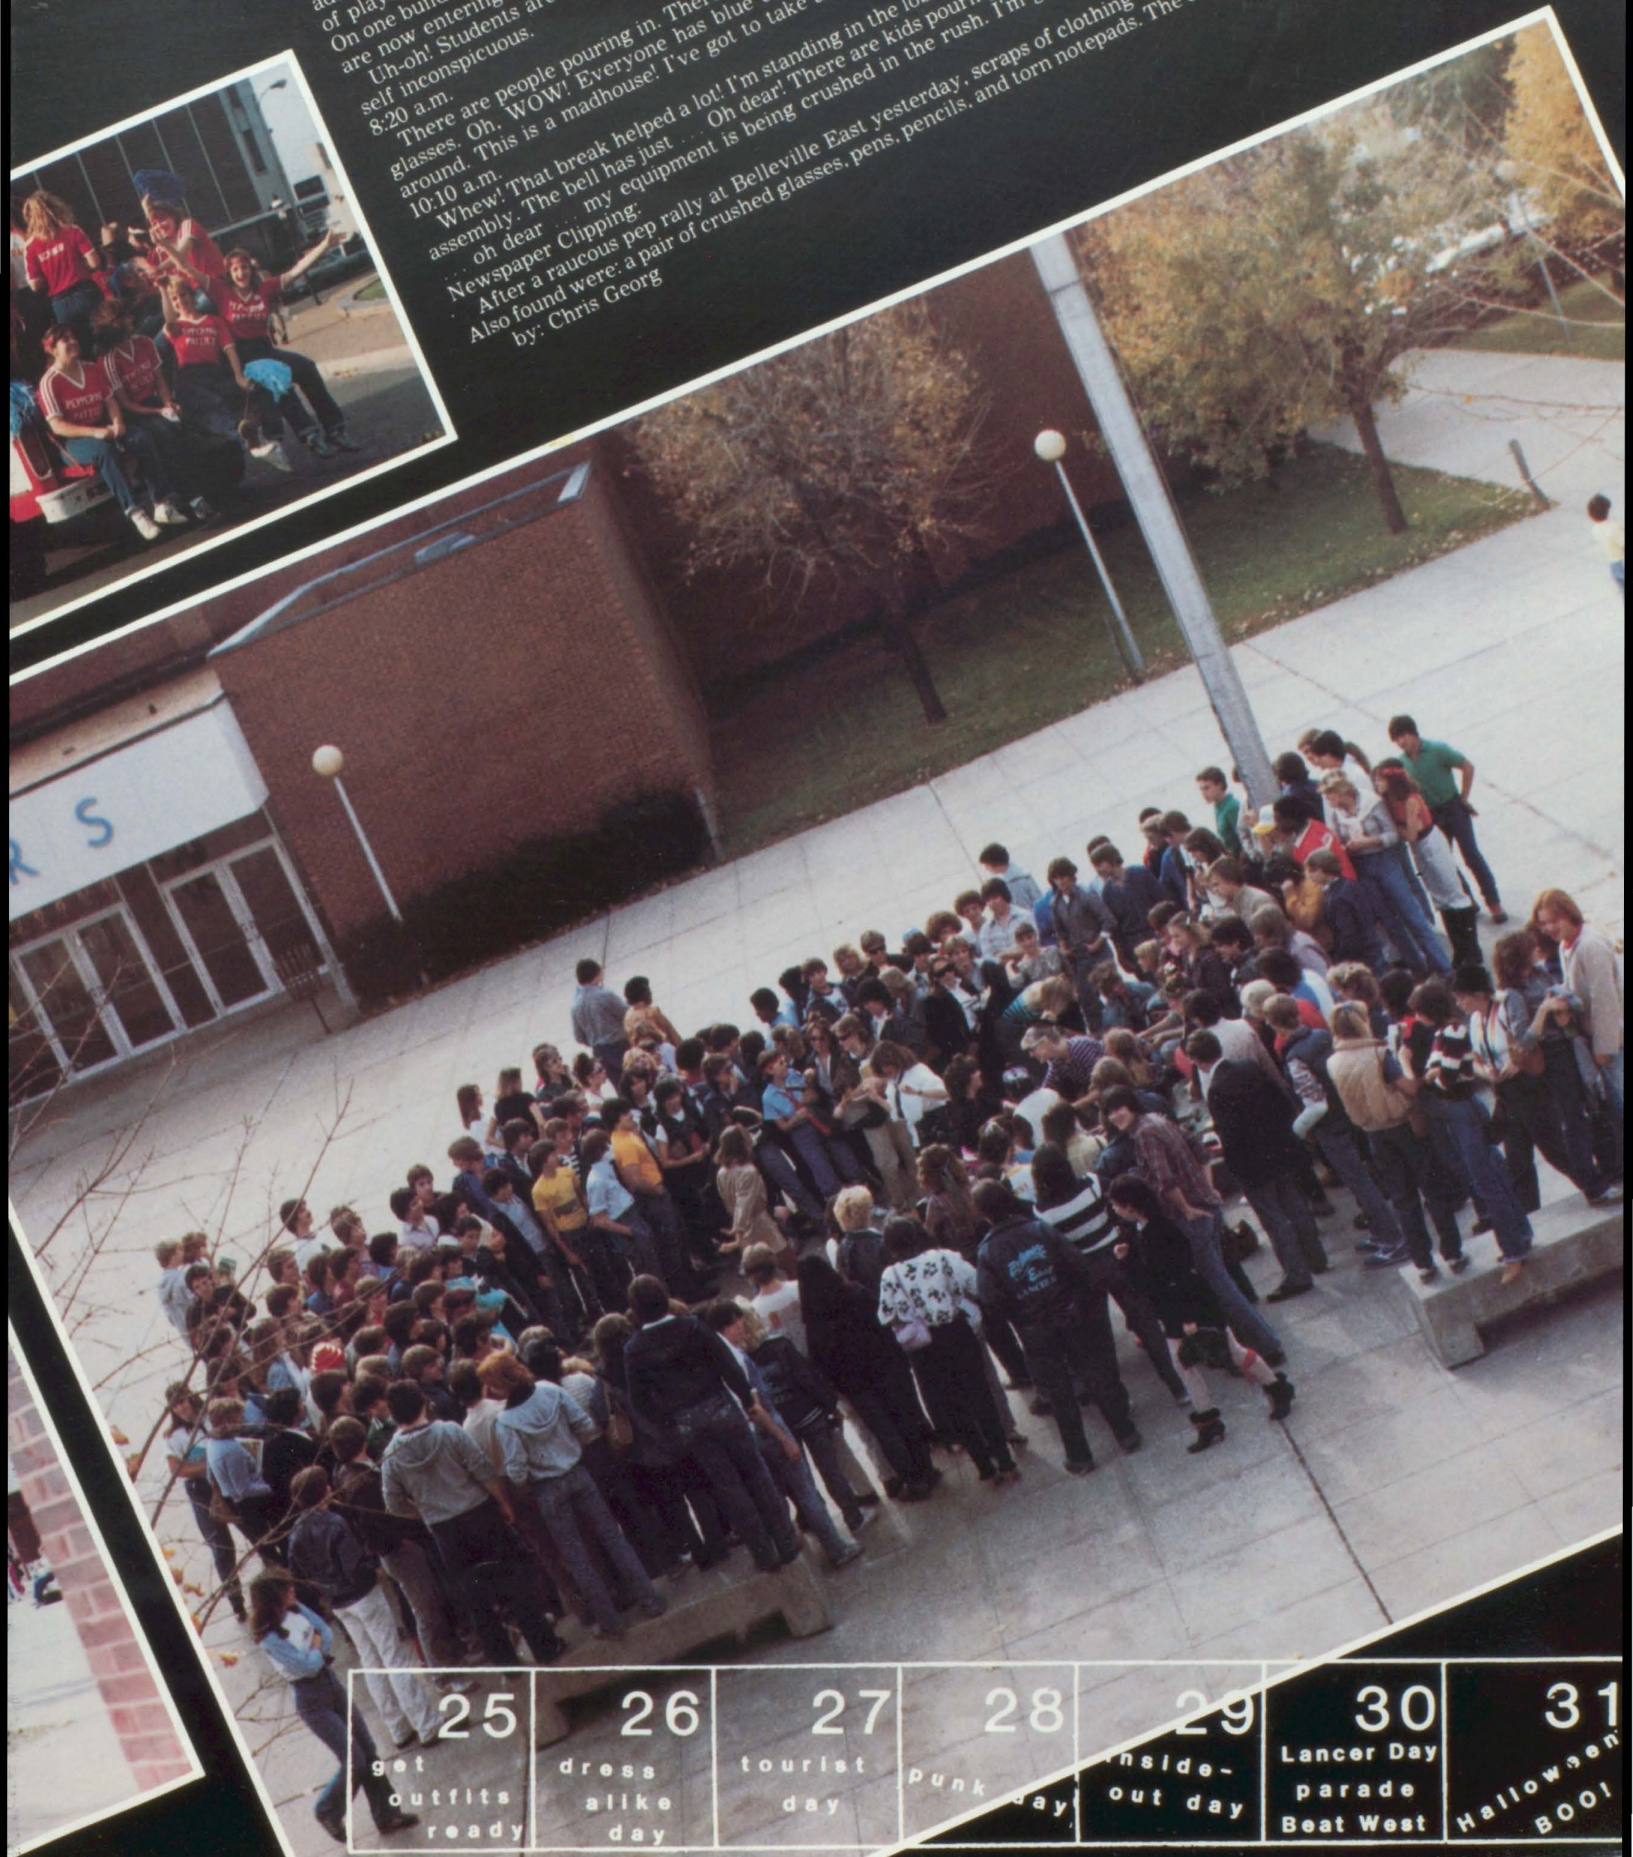

8:00 a.m. Upon entering the Belleville East campus, I'm totally taken aback. The whole campus is enveloped in toilet paper! It's a madhouse! There's masking tape, chalk, and streamers adorning almost every available space. I see the names of players, nicknames, groupnames, and silly sayings. On one building I see this: THE TWILIGHT ZONE: You are now entering a dimension of time and space. Uh-oh! Students are arriving. I'm going to make myself inconspicuous.

8:20 a.m. There are people pouring in. There's something strange going on! I see lots of hats ... and glasses. Oh. WOW! Everyone has blue on. Many of the students are yelling and jumping around. This is a madhouse! I've got to take a break.

10:10 a.m. Whew! That break helped a lot! I'm standing in the lobby of the gym now because I heard rumors that there is an assembly. The bell has just ... Oh dear! There are kids pouring in; the band is over-whelming! I'm getting trampled ... oh dear ... my equipment is being crushed in the rush. I'm going down ... Aaaugh!

Newspaper Clipping:
After a raucous pep rally at Belleville East yesterday, scraps of clothing were found scattered in the gym lobby. Also found were: a pair of crushed glasses, pens, pencils, and torn notepads. The owner of these articles is unknown.

SPIRITS ARE FLYING

In 1966, Lyndon B. Johnson was president, the Gateway Arch had just been completed, two spaceships docked in space, and Belleville East celebrated its first Loyalty Week.

With most guys wearing crew-cuts and the girls in dresses, the students celebrated Button Day; T-Shirt and Jeans Day; Sweatshirt, Sunglasses, Sneakers and Slacks Day; and Teacher Appreciation Day. Without realizing it, they started a tradition.

They celebrated the first Loyalty Week with bonfires, assemblies, a queen election, class skits, silly olympics, and the "big game."

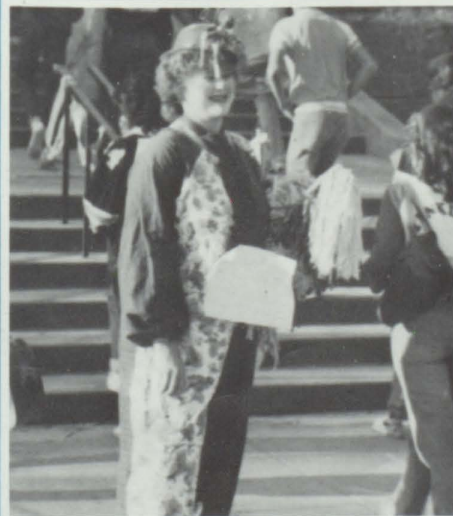

The school song was selected and played to the tune of "On Wisconsin" and the school flag was purchased.

Sixteen years later, Ronald Reagan is president, people ride to the top of the Arch each day, the space shuttle has opened new doors in space technology, and Belleville East celebrates its sixteenth Loyalty Week.

This year, Lancers celebrated dress alike day, tourists day, new wave day, inside out day, and Lancer spirit day.

We had our queen, assemblies, class competition, spirit chain, Powder Puff Olympics, class skits, parade, and the "big game."

PHANTOM

COUNTRY!

The mannequin hanging in front of B.T.H.S. East was eye-catching. It obviously symbolized a student of a rival school. Every wall, floor, ceiling, and available piece of cement was covered with taped-on graffiti. Sayings such as "Lancers eat Bunnies", "Sally loves Joe", "Juniors are #1" adorned the entire place. From every tree, pole, and railing hung streamers of blue and white. Even the students were decorated in Lancer jackets, pale blue pom-poms, white ribbons, and royal blue t-shirts. Their faces were lit up in excitement and friends screamed rowdy cheers to one another. Football players strolled the campus proudly followed closely by bouncing, giggling cheerleaders. The conclusion? Belleville East Lancers were preparing to win yet another football game.

CHILDREN'S PLAY

EAST PUPPETEERS

One of the oldest puppet shows in history and a favorite of all ages, Punch and Judy, was presented as this year's children's play.

The traveling group held performances on December 2, December 9, and December 16. The planned schedule included Henry Raab, Franklin, Jefferson, Union, Whiteside, and Roosevelt schools.

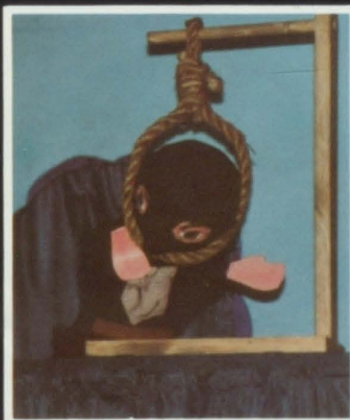

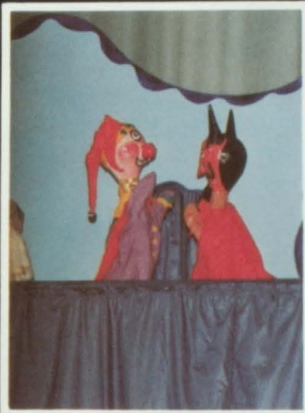

The cast was small with only seven characters. Senior Keith Scharringhausen was Punch and junior Melanie Applegate doubled as Judy, Punch's wife, and the Baby. Senior Jeff Bergmann also doubled as Pat and the Ghost. Senior Bryan DeVasher played Jack Ketch and the Devil and senior Michele LePere was the Prompter.

Mr. Isom was assisted by Elaine Meidinger. Mr. James Moore advised the technical crew and he selected Lendy and Wendy Sanford as student technical directors.

The puppets are very elaborate in contrast to the simple one-piece set. They were not rented. Instead, Mr. Isom and Elaine spent many hours working on the details of the faces and clothing.

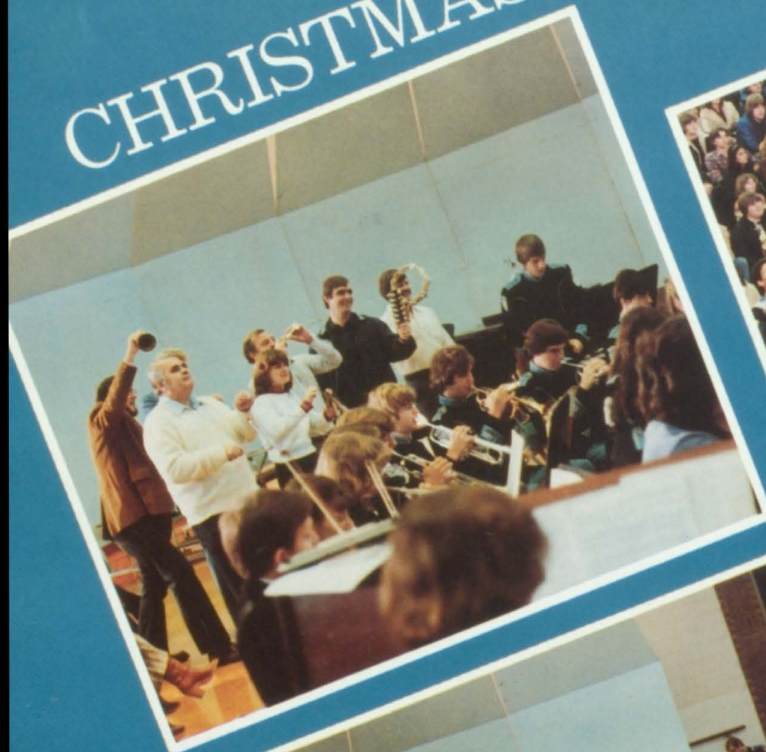

A few interesting sound effects interrupted the show. Mark Eichenlaub played the electric piano, James Jones beat the drums, and Kim Neuner and Nancy Angenend played the flute. Gina Watson added flair by doing everything from sounding on wood blocks to "cock-a-doodle-doing."

CHRISTMAS

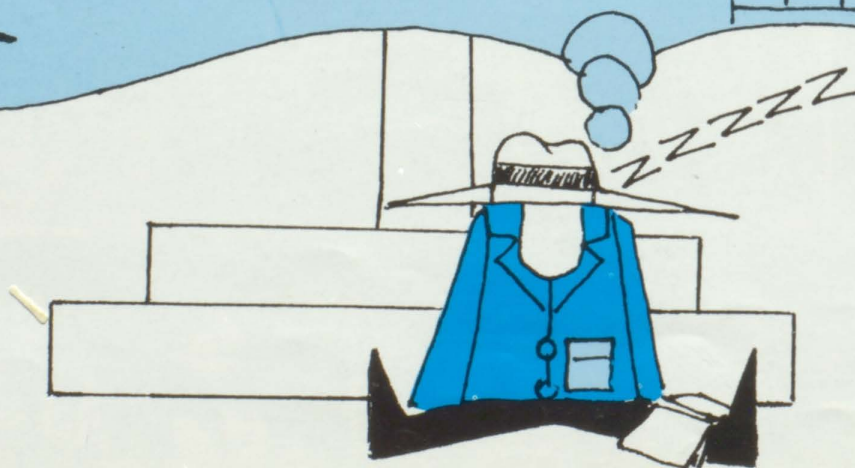

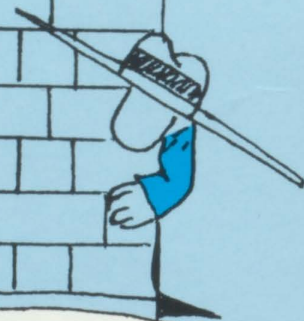

Hmmm ... I can see, by looking over these first few pages, that my mission here is going to be harder than I thought. What could be the secret behind "Belleville East"? Is it the wonderful food in the cafeteria and the delightful teachers, or merely sitting by the flag pole on a sunny day? Maybe the answer will become clearer as I search for clues during the school year.

OF DAVE DeLAND
By The News-Democrat

Like an elephant, Dean Renn never forgets. And when it came time to make his team to play All-Ireland, he remembered the two teams his players remembered what happened when I mentioned it a few times last year.

He said, "I was 1900 from the back of the Crusaders. We didn't want it to say the very least. We didn't want it."

He said, "This year, it was East's."

The result was a crushing 40-0 victory over the Youngstown Stags.

Sir,

You would not believe some of the things these people go through. After the students are finished with all of their classes, there are those who stay after and put themselves through torture. This is all done, of course, at the barking call of their coaches. There are many different activities throughout the year that the students are able to participate in; some attend these grueling workouts year round. Every one is told that these sports are purely for fun, recreation, and the enjoyment of competing with others. I strongly believe, however, that the members of this organization are being trained for some sort of uprising. There are definitely many ill feelings toward a similar establishment across town known as "Belleville West". Very interesting wouldn't you agree?

CAPTAIN'S CORNER

I feel fortunate that I had a chance to participate in this year's football program.

Everything "worked together" - the coaches, my teammates, even the flow of the season- to provide memories which I will cherish.

I'm glad I was part of the Lancer system.

Rick Schmidt
Co-Captain

As individuals the 1981 Lancer football team accomplished a lot, but as a team we accomplished much more. All year people underestimated us, just waiting for us to fold, but we never did. We proved that hard work and a team effort could overcome individual limitations. I am proud to be a Lancer and am proud of the team's accomplishments.

Howard Barrett
Co-Captain

I was really impressed with the football team here. They had an impressive 8-2 record. At the end of the season they captured the titles of City and Southwestern Conference Champs!!

L. Spy

Tim Bachman breaks through another tackle.

I feel the 1981 Lancer's improved more than any team in our 16 year history. They achieved success when most people expected failure. They were certainly a dedicated, committed, and exciting team to work with.

A lot of the success of the Lancer football team is due to the hard-working coaching staff.

Some more snow? Say it ain't so

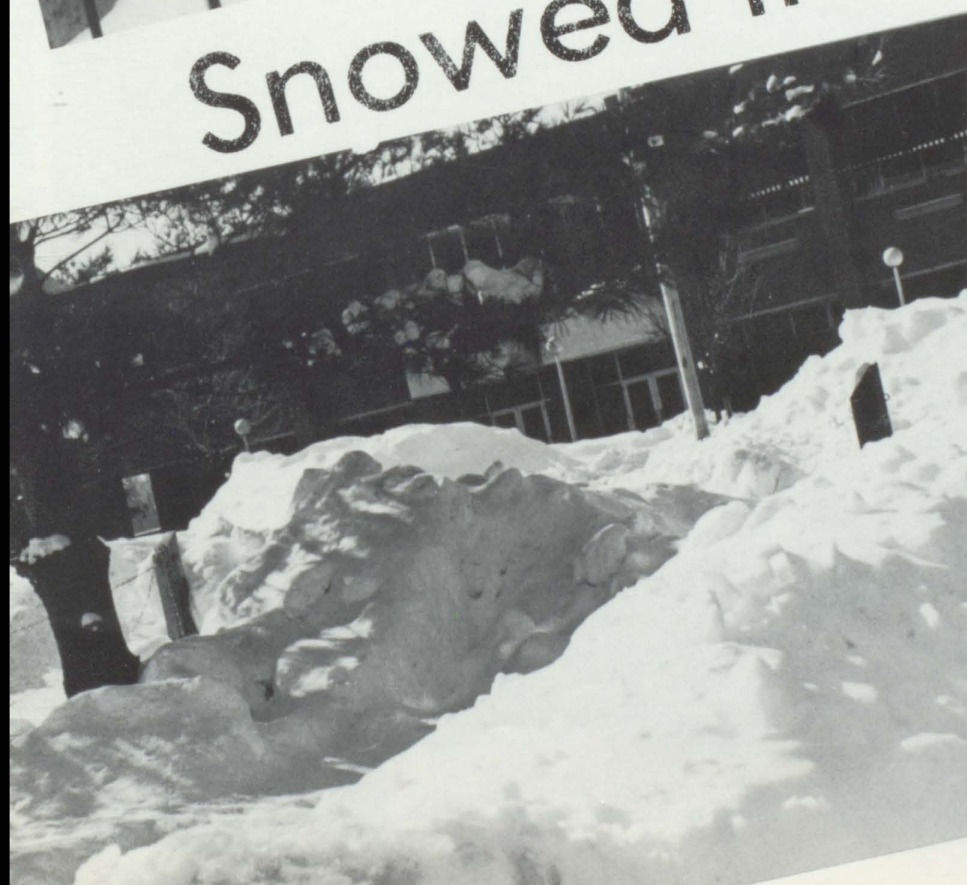

How deep
is it?

buried by snow

Snowed in

Snowbound:

A record snowstorm of 70 years buried the Belleville area under approximately 20 inches of snow and ice January 30, 1982. This had only been the second snowstorm of the year. It all began in the early evening of Saturday, January 30, with a light showering of sleet which quickly turned into snow. By the end of the evening much snow had already accumulated making it very difficult for motorists to travel. Many people found themselves stranded at work, at friends and other locations. Little did they know what was in store for them in the following days. The snow continued throughout the night and into Sunday making travel virtually impossible. And so, the process of clearing roads and highways began, hoping to renew the everyday lives of the city's residents. However, many of the area's students were not to resume their daily rituals for quite sometime. Lists and lists of cancellations were read every morning with Belleville East among them. All was prepared to resume school once again Wednesday, February 3. This was prevented, however, by a fresh snowfall Tuesday night that, although not as large, added to the mountainous snow already on the ground from the previous storm. Thus, Belleville East students found themselves out or school for one entire week. Monday, February 8, returning students were presented with pile after huge pile of snow in various places around Belleville East. The sidewalks were plowed and all was back in operation. This was not, however, the last of snow; for that very day, once again, it began to snow. The snow accumulation Monday night was just enough to make the roads hazardous for travel and East was once again cancelled for Tuesday, resuming again on Wednesday, February 10. Will the students ever get used to a regular school week? Are the teachers going to be able to rearrange their work schedules? These were but a few questions being considered. More often was the question — How long are we going to be going to school this summer? Well, the students knew that if they were not once again besieged by a 20 inch snowstorm, or drowned in a flood caused by snow run-off, the routine at East would soon turn to normal.

SOMETHING NEW!?!

Something new was added to the BTHS East curriculum this year, the mini-assemblies. These assemblies were started to provide cultural and educational opportunities for the students at BTHS East while at the same time giving the faculty a chance to demonstrate their talents and hobbies. Also, the assemblies have provided students with a way to obtain a bit of knowledge about subjects they may not be able to include in their regular academic schedule.

The first of these assemblies was a presentation of the Modern Dance Troupe from Southern Illinois University of Edwardsville. These dancers demonstrated a number of dances and showed the students an over-all good time. Other assemblies included a duck-carving seminar by Mr. Willett, a C.P.R. demonstration from Mr. Snep, and a craft show from Mr. Jones. Other planned demonstrations were Mr. Gentsch with a history presentation, Mr. Sherry demonstrating some magic, Mr. Hardimen speaking about nature, and Mrs. Yung showing her talent of scrimshaw (carving ivory). Mr. Winslow, who is in charge of arranging mini-assemblies, said he hopes to hold a mini-assembly every two weeks.

PUNK VS. PREP

There she is, the original prep, wearing her topsiders, monogram sweater, and pleated skirt. How long has she been here, one, two, maybe three years? Actually, prep was originated in New England quite a few years ago but only recently began showing itself here. Now preps can be found anywhere you go. Not everyone is preppy; so if you're not don't worry because as all trends do, this too shall pass. With the passing of prep, comes the ever-daring punkers. They can be recognized by their short hair-cut, the ribbon around their head, and their outrageously different style of dress. Although punkers may not have an official handbook, yet, theirs seems to be a definite, though original, way of dress.

THEY'RE OUT FOR BLOOD!

by Joe Lamie

Once again this year, the East student body responded to the annual Red Cross blood drive. By the end of the day, 287 people had donated blood. The turnout fell one participant short of the record total from last year.

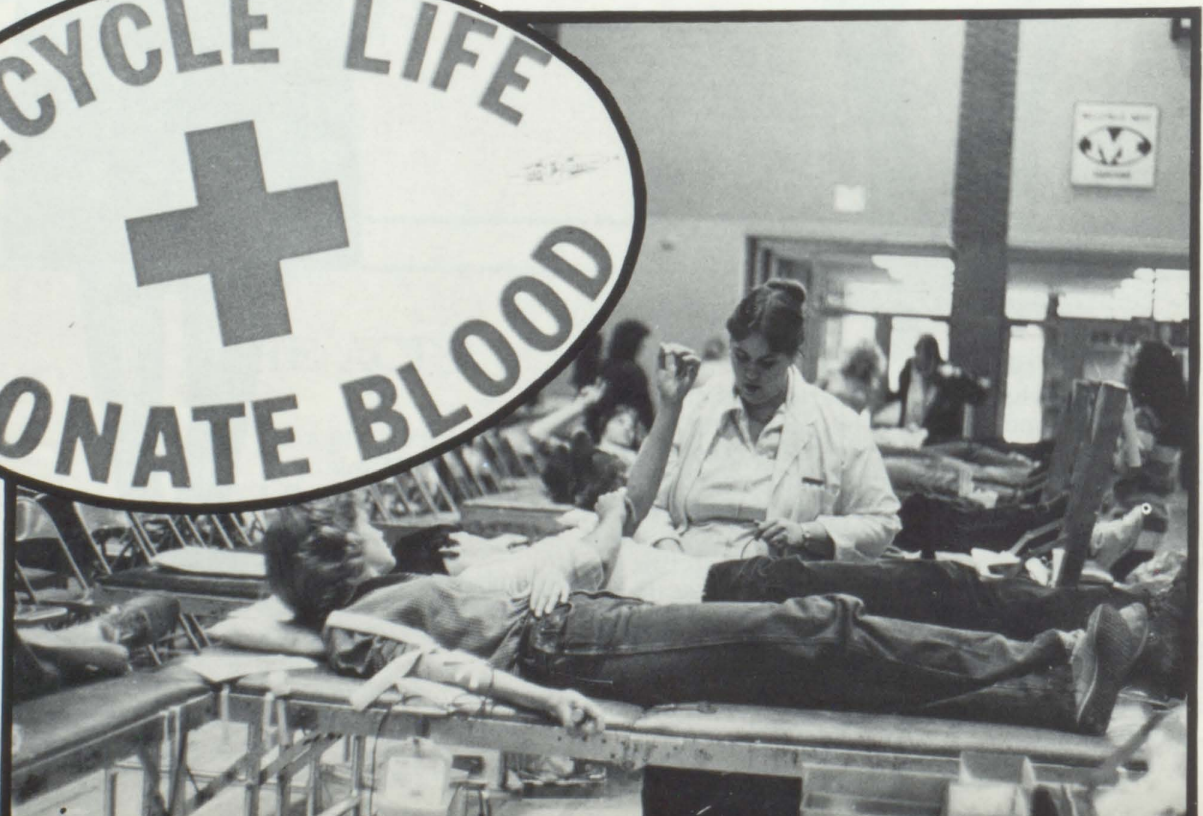

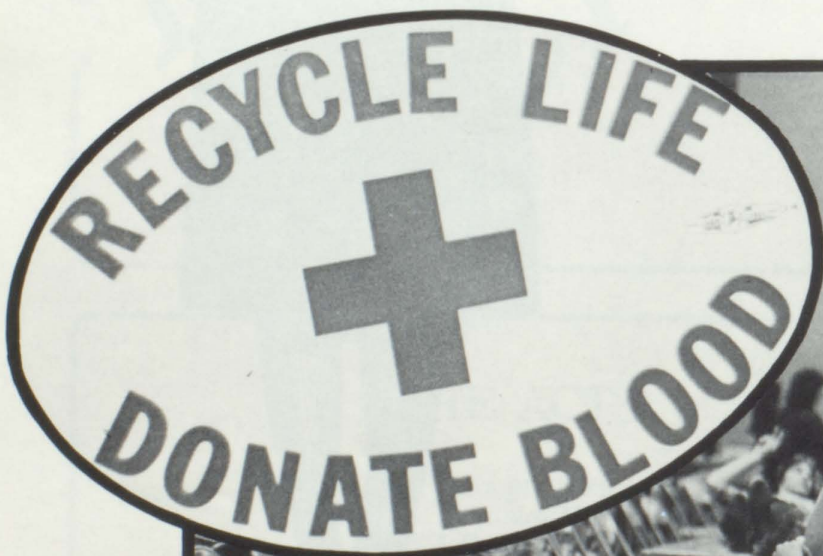

"We were really pleased with the turnout. The students really responded," stated Mrs. Ann Schaltenbrand, East's school nurse.

Several students were unable to donate due to being on medication or having personal injuries. "Actually, 316 students showed up, but some could not donate," stated Mrs. Schaltenbrand.

"We would just like to thank everyone who donated and the Student Council and the health occupation classes for helping out," commented Mrs. Schaltenbrand. "They made this year's drive a success."

The drive has been held at East for the last five years. Last year's drive was very successful. In addition to all the people who donated, East won two awards.

The first honor was received for having the most donors in one day. The second was received for having the most donors in a two-day period. The second day was held as an emergency drive.

East students eventually are affected by everything from draft registration to stiffer drinking laws. Someday students will be faced with similar problems. For now, though, they stand by observing what is happening in the world they will someday help run.

Since President Reagan has decided to go on with draft registration, all four of the armed forces met their recruiting goals last year by signing up more than 300,000 recruits. More than half of the new recruits had their high school diplomas. One of the real reasons for such an increase in recruits is the state of the United States economy. Most recruits are pursuing practical training programs that they hope to use eventually in civilian jobs. Since the draft registration is going to be around for a long while, the government has issued a warning of two months as a registration grace period before beginning prosecutions.

Dear Sir,

There are many small organizations going on here at East. The usual meeting time for these groups is after the regular school hours. I have not, as yet, been able to infiltrate all of them. Sir, I don't know one word of French! Send help quickly. I have, however, been taking lessons. I hope to discover more about these clubs in the future, for they do seem to be quite interesting. Many people are involved in several of these clubs, so there must be something about them that keeps attracting members. I plan to find out just what it is!!

The Laureate helps students find out what's going on at East. Some of the staff tells us, "We feel proud to be associated with a group of people that are capable of relating to the teachers and students, a final project in print."

Dear Sir,

I have uncovered the leaders of this group. They are going under the alias of "the faculty." In various buildings around the campus, these people are grouped together into very small offices. Many different odors can be smelled wafting from these nodes, depending upon the location. Whether it be popcorn popping in E, or chemicals brewing in G, there's never a dull moment when the faculty's in sight. As soon as a teacher is spotted, conversations come to a standstill, fake passes are frantically searched for, and the students take on an over-all attitude of innocence.

COUNSELORS

William Coates

Robert Eller

Barbara Lyons

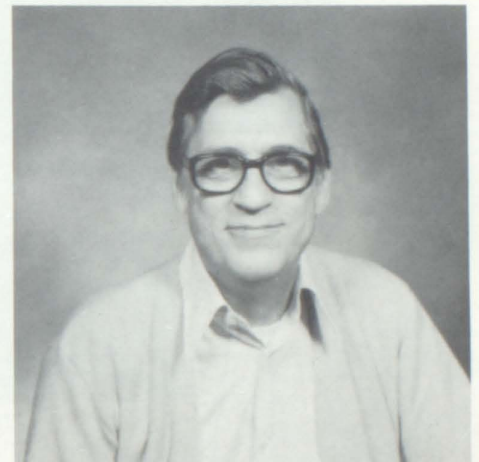

The East Guidance Department consists of Dr. Eller, Mrs. Lyons, Mrs. Simkins, Mrs. Stephenson, Mrs. Stanislawsky, Mr. Coates, and Mr. Dilday.

The counselors at East assist students in many areas. They can help you assess your strengths and limitations, develop positive attitudes about yourself, select courses which are right for you, discover your general talents and abilities, help you find a job, plan your further education, or decide on a career. Your counselor also can help you make suitable decisions about your life and solve personal problems with family, friends and teachers.

According to Dr. Robert Eller, Senior counselor, "The Guidance Department is here to help students with their decisions as they go through school." The East Guidance Department has a well-qualified staff with alot of experience.

"The philosophy of our department is to work with individual problems. The strength of our department is that we work with students as individuals," stated Dr. Eller.

Professional guidance can help you make the best choices for your life and help develop your full potential as an individual.

ART

Since 1966, when Belleville East opened, the Art Department has been expanding. The department began with two teachers and only 150 students enrolled in art classes. Now, there are four teachers and nearly 400 students involved with art classes. One year of art fundamentals is offered, plus eight additional elective courses from which to choose.

Mr. Isom, department head, teaches commercial art, drawing, and painting. He would like to expand the art classes by adding commercial printing, art history, filmmaking and video production. To expand the program would necessitate more students electing art courses, which at the present time seems unlikely.

Art is a class for those students who want to become more creative and aware of the world around them. "Less than one half of one percent ever make a living in the arts; therefore, our main concern is to make students better consumers of art," Mr. Isom said. "You cannot teach art, you can only set a condition for art to take place."

The Art Department offers courses in Art Fundamentals, Sculpture, Ceramics, Commercial Art, Crafts, Jewelry Design, Drawing, Printmaking, Painting, Photography, and Advanced Studio.

The Art Department fosters the development of perceptual and creative skills. According to Mr. Colgan, "We try to reach the student as an individual and to teach from human experience. We deal with humans on a human basis." Mr. Colgan went on to say, "We create an atmosphere and let the process take place within the student. We try to teach from the student's point of view."

The Art Club and the Photography Club are associated with the Art Department. Mr. Colgan sponsors the Photography Club and Mr. Jones is in charge of the Art Club. The Art Club did not meet this year due to a lack of student interest.

All of the Art teachers belong to the National Art Education Association. Mr. Colgan ranks the Art Department at East among the top ten in the state with its excellent facilities and quality of education.

Each Art room is specially suited for each specific class. Students are exposed to a studio-like situation. Each studio also reflects the personality of the particular instructor.

MUSIC

Leroy Kirsh

James McHaney

Phillip Paeltz

Music means something different to everyone. Music is rhythm and sound to some, and money and devotion to others. Music is what people want it to be.

Mr. McHaney, head of the music department, teaches choir, and men and women's ensemble. The facilities in the department are adequate, but lack a performance center.

"The students involved in music have a wide range of abilities. Some sing just for the pleasure of singing, while others are seriously working toward a career in music," Mr. McHaney said. "This is not to say that the student who is considering music as a career is more talented, but rather shows the varying degrees to which students devote themselves to their music."

The teachers in the music department are trying to prepare some students for a career, while at the same time, prepare some to be educated listeners. The Stage Band, Marching Band, Reserve Band, Concert Choir, Sophomore Choir, Trebel, and Swing Choirs, and the Pom Pon Squad are all groups associated with the music department. The music department is a department where large groups of students make public performances.

A student doesn't have to have any past musical experience to be involved in some type of music activity.

Mr. McHaney feels that each staff member in the music department is a performer in his own right. Mr. Paeltz plays the french horn, Mr. McHaney is involved in vocal music performances, Mr. Kirsch plays the trumpet.

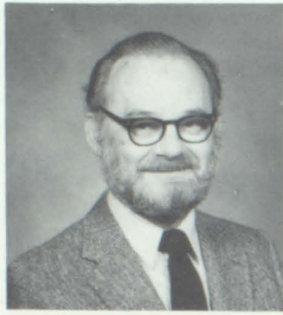

East's various performing groups are in demand throughout the school year. Mr. McHaney believes music is part of everyday life; he thinks all students should enrich their lives with music.

The department tries to expose students to the music of today and of the past so they become better qualified to make judgements about the music they encounter in life.

INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION

Joe Konya

James Moore

Wayne Prince

Ted Schaal

William Willet

Paul Humes

The Industrial Education Department offers classes in auto-shop, drafting, electricity-electronics, metal-working, wood working, construction, and welding.

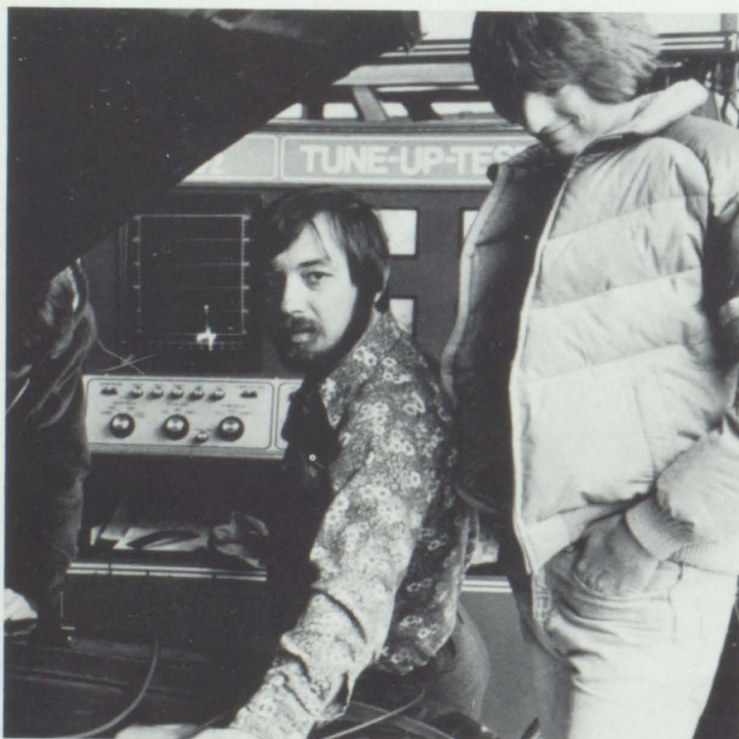

Mr. Konya, who is the head of the Industrial Education Department, said that the department is here to provide an opportunity for students to gain experience and to learn a major industrial occupation. He believes these classes are truly representative of industrial occupations in our society. Mr. Konya describes the shops in the Industrial Education Department as "not just a place to keep busy, but as laboratories." Students who go through the industrial education department will have the ability to identify career opportunities.

The Industrial Education Department at one time sponsored the Electronics Club and the Auto Enthusiasts Club. Although these clubs may be started again, neither was active this year. Also, Mr. Prince, who teaches in the department, coaches the track team; Mr. Humes serves as the assistant wrestling coach, and Mr. Moore works as a technical director for some of the productions in the drama department, he constructs the sets and stages.

One unique thing about the department is that everything employs the "hands on" technique. Students make things they can take home with them; it is not all theory. According to one teacher, "It is a practical-type program; it's the application of learning and theory." The staff of the department is highly-qualified. Mr. Konya feels the staff is difficult to match, since most of the teachers work in the same general areas. They teach during the summer months.

East has fewer facilities in the Industrial Education area than many schools, but the facilities that exist are used to their fullest potential. Even if the department facilities are limited, the department, in general, offers as many, if not more, courses than many schools with better facilities. "We do as good, if not a better job, than many schools. We can hold our own," said Mr. Konya.

When the school was built, there were no industrial courses included in the curriculum; the department has developed itself up from scratch. Mr. Konya and Mr. Moore believe that the department has adapted well to its particular situation.

HOME ECONOMICS

Whats for lunch today

The Homemaking Department has the philosophy that every student needs an education in Home Economics for success in everyday living.

The Homemaking curriculum is two-fold. First, the Home Economics curriculum is designed to develop skills, appreciations, understandings, and attitudes needed in home and family life today. Secondly, the Homemaking program tries to provide in-school and on-the-job vocational training.

The basic areas of Homemaking include foods, gainful work study, clothing and home, family and health. Foods include Intermediate Foods, Advanced Foods and Meal Planning. The work study program includes Food Management, Cooperative Food Service, and Work Training. Classes dealing in clothing include Intermediate Clothing, Advanced Clothing, and Fashion and Merchandising. Many classes deal with the home, the family, and health: Family Living I, Family Living II, Home and Furnishing, and Health Related Occupations.

All of the Homemaking Department teachers are very well qualified and have had at least 10 or more years of experience in their work. All of the teachers have a master's degree.

According to Mrs. Hardimon, Homemaking Department Head, "A Homemaking Department must have cooperation. I feel that all the teachers have a good working relationship and get along well. We all like to teach."

Mrs. Hardimon said the Department would rank high in a state survey because of better facilities, the use of visual aids, a very qualified staff, and pleasant working atmosphere and conditions.

The Homemaking Department tries to create a home-like atmosphere, that is a cheery place where students can feel at home and learn. The department has up-to-date equipment, such as, a microwave, a conventional oven, a child development lab, and new sewing machines. According to Mrs. Hardimon, "The department strives to appear orderly, neat and professional."

MATH

Mr. Boyles, who is the head of the twelve member staff math department, feels the qualifications of our math staff is better than most math departments; all the teachers have a master's degree and many years of experience. The math staff emphasizes the basics very heavily at all levels, "We don't like to get into anything too heavy too often," said Mr. Dunn. When asked to rank Belleville East's math department with other high-school math programs in the area, Mr. Boyles replied, "East has the best math department, we're number one!" The record of the math team for the past fifteen years clearly can speak for the fine quality of the math department. "East's math students are very good at all levels," says Mr. Dunn. "Our honor students work very hard, and we try to make them better."

The philosophy of the math department is to offer subject matter and training which is important to the entire school population, as well as the special mathematics needed for professional, technical education. The math department courses range from remedial arithmetic, through the algebra-geometry sequence, up through and including solid and plane analytic geometry.

The math department is continually evaluating and improving its courses and materials so students can and will be able to compute problems confronting them in their own life in mathematical situations. Evaluating and improving also provides students with the mathematical skills, facts, and principles necessary for further mathematical training.

The math department offers 16 different courses each year. A minimal competency test was started in 1980 that must be passed. One year of math is required for graduation.

Some members of the math staff coach sports at East; Mr. Dunn coaches golf, Mr. Thompson is the head tennis coach, Mr. Patton coaches baseball, Mr. Thompson is also an assistant varsity football coach, and Mr. Bagwell is an assistant football coach.

Student caught by surprise

The main function of the Biology Department is to make the students more aware of their environment and themselves. The Biology Department also fosters the Ecology Club, which is not active at the present time. The main objective of the Biology Department is, "to help students learn as much about biology as painlessly as possible," as Mr. Barth puts it. "We want to make students quite aware of the relationships of plants and animals."

One unique thing about the Biology Department is that it survives as well as it does in spite of its all elective courses; every year they have a full enrollment.

Both Mr. Baum and Mr. Barth stressed that biology is important because of the need to know about yourself and the survival of plants and animals. Mr. Barth reiterated the point by saying, "We need to know about all our little critters that share the planet with us. What we do to the least of our little critters, we do to ourselves."

East's Biology Department has an excellent, natural advantage with a large campus which can be used for the benefit of classes. Our field facilities and our supplies are probably superior to that of smaller schools. Our staff has a very broad back-ground. Mr. Baum is the head of the Biology Department.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE

Lauren Hollinberger

John McCullough

The Force is with him.

Belleville East's Physical Science Department offers college-level courses. Our Physical Science facilities are equal to if not better than some colleges, according to Mr. Hollinberger. He went on to explain that the Physical Science Department does not prepare students for a job: they prepare students for college.

Students take chemistry and physics to fulfill college requirements. College courses, then, prepare students to get a job in a particular area. Our advance courses are equal in difficulty to general level college courses. The advanced physics classes are even coordinated with SIU-Edwardsville.

All of the Physical Science Department teachers have a master's degree. Some of the instructors of the staff have at least 16 years of experience in Physical Science and tend to be associated with college work during the summer months.

According to Mr. Hollinberger, department head, "We are pretty much a traditional department, a basic science department that is not way-out." The department stays that way so colleges will accept the student's science background.

"We only have from 100-130 students enrolled in our physics and chemistry classes," stated Mr. Hollinberger. "We don't think we get enough students for our courses." To some extent this might be because the department tries to follow the classical definition of science. "Our instructors teach to have the students learn, not to entertain them," Mr. Hollinberger said. "They prefer to keep their courses as much like college courses as possible."

The ultimate teaching objective of the Physical Science Department is to instruct students and let them apply that knowledge to everyday situations.

The function of the English Department is to deal with the advancement of students' written and oral communication skills by offering such courses as Mechanics of Writing and Composition I and II. English teachers also help students understand and evaluate literature in a number of phased classes which offer a variety of student challenges. English classes also work at increasing students reading comprehension and public speaking skills.

Some English courses specialize with limited topics, such as, acting and directing in the school environment. The basic philosophy of the English Department was summarized by Mr. Stephenson, "We are here to serve all the students, not any particular interest group."

Related English department activities include Debate, sponsored by Mr. Snively; I.E., sponsored by Mr. Winslow; the Yearbook, sponsored by Mr. Hott; the school's literary magazine, the Lancerlot, headed by Ms. Meyer; and the school newspaper, the Laureate, sponsored by Mr. Stephenson.

Some members of the English Department coach some sports at East. Mr. Stephenson coaches the volleyball team; Miss Menke coaches girls tennis and softball; Mr. Talley is the track coach.

ENGLISH

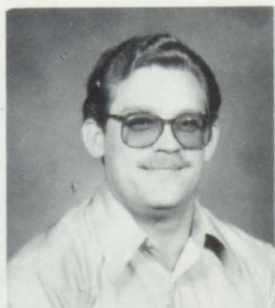

Mr. Talley

Mr. Stephenson believes that the unique thing that sets off the English Department from other departments is the department's here to serve all the students for all four years of high school. The department stays in contact with students longer than the other departments might.

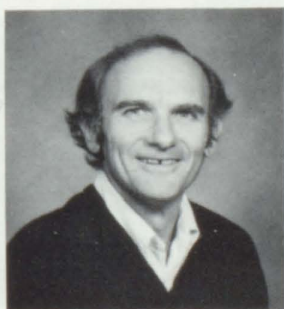

East's English department has a highly qualified staff, with expertise in many areas of English. The department offers a wider variety of courses than most high schools. Therefore, students can pursue their own interests and needs. Because the staff is multi-functional, its faculty is always on the move. "We are trying to improve, and at the same time, re-evolve our courses and curriculum in general," according to Mr. Stephenson. "We are not afraid to change, if necessary."

"English is important to your future because almost all of what you learn is transmitted through language," Mr. Talley said.

To graduate, a student must have completed 3.5 credits of English.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Physical Education Department has a two-fold purpose: to teach the how and the why of fitness to students. P.E. teachers try to create a change in the life-style and physical habits of the people with whom they come in contact. They try to help them become physically fit. The department tries to install in its participants some fundamental life-time skills and activities, such as golf, tennis, archery, outdoor education, and first aid.

"The unique thing about the P.E. Department," Coach Snep says, "is that the department is probably the most responsive to students' needs. Teachers can adjust their offerings to what the students really need. As the needs of the students change, so do the P.E. course offerings."

The P.E. Department offers courses quite different from any other curriculum program. Even with this large diversity, teachers teach only in the areas they are most qualified. When asked how sports were picked, Coach Snep replied, "We usually try to pick a tailored or fashionable sport to suit the needs and interests of the students."

Coach Snep believes the department has to be more resourceful than many on-campus departments because it offers a more extensive program. There is one handicap, the lack of indoor space. This is why the department teaches courses that meet outdoors as well as in classrooms. It is important and good for students to take part in P.E. They are getting the same quality of education that some adults pay to get. P.E. is also important because it is part of the total education process; a sound P.E. program compliments a sound academic program.

Physical education is a four-year requirement. There are many different sports to choose from, such as aerobics for girls and wrestling for boys. Freshmen and Sophomore classes are chosen by the instructors while Juniors and Seniors can choose sports for themselves. Also Freshmen are required to take Health for a semester.

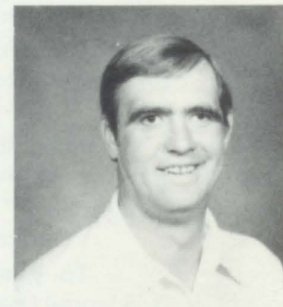

During 1980, an outdoor education class was started. This year a first aid course was added to the curriculum.

DRIVER EDUCATION

Driver Education Fleet

There are two main phases of the Driver Education program. These phases are classroom and the laboratory phase. The classroom phase is taught from the Rules of the Road book, the Sportsmanlike Driving book, and the State of Illinois curriculum as developed by the Illinois Office of Education. The laboratory phase of the Driver Education program includes instruction in both a simulator and an actual automobile.

The Driver Education Department is different from other departments at East in that it has to work closely with the Secretary of State's office in Springfield.

"We try to give all students who have the ability and opportunity to drive the necessary skill so they can become safe, responsible drivers," stated Mr. Heinz.

Up to 350 students take driver's education in one year. This figure doubles during the summer. Many of the students at East have heard that the driving age will be moved up to eighteen. This is not considered a fact. Mr. Heinz was asked what age he felt people should start driving. He replied, "I think sixteen is a perfect age. Some people may be mature enough to drive earlier, but not all."

One of the most anticipated moments in a high school student's life is getting his driver's license. It is a memorable and exciting time for most students.

The East Driver Education Department teaches the basic mental and physical skills needed to be a safe driver.

Mr. Ralph Heinz serves as the department head. Other members of the East Driver Education staff include Mr. Loyde Elmore, Mr. Dean Renn, and Mr. Don Ottness.

Most of the staff members are involved in the East sports program. Mr. Ottness is the Varsity Basketball Coach; Mr. Renn is the Head Football Coach, and Mr. Elmore is an assistant basketball coach.

Mr. Heinz would rank the East program as one of the best. He went on to say, "The East Driver Education curriculum is very good. We teach classroom and behind the wheel training together, and we treat Driver Education like a regular course."

The Business department, headed by Mr. Frew, pursues two basic fundamentals: to train students vocationally, and for economic literacy. Mr. Frew says the business department's goal is "to assure that a student learns to the optimum of his or her ability regardless of whether the course emphasizes manipulative skills or mental processes."

The Business Department fosters the Office Occupations Program under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Capone, and the Distributive Education program, guided by Mr. Hollis, a new faculty member, also works outside the classroom by coaching the sophomore basketball team.

East has excellent facilities; everything from typewriters to computers are provided for the business student. Mr. Frew believes our business department is one of the best. Because almost all of the business teachers were new to the school district when East was built, the school gained alot of new ideas. The department offers some courses that many schools do not. Although no business class is required for graduation, the Business Department has the largest enrollment outside of the required subjects departments. Approximately 1300 students currently are enrolled in business courses.

Mr. Frew thinks students should take business courses so they are prepared with some specific skill when they leave high school. They need something to be able to "fall back on" if necessary. In the business world, people are able to apply their knowledge and skills to business things.

The Belleville East Business Department also provides a good preparation for college. If a person gets just a little skill in some type of business, they can always apply their knowledge in other situations in their life.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The courses offered by the Social Studies Department are: Civics 1-2, Civics 1-2C, Social Studies, World Geography, U.S. History 5-6, and U.S. History Survey "C" 5-6. Also offered are American Government, American Problems, Physiography, Sociology, Psychology, and Economics.

Students may register for any of the above courses or they may take any two of a variety of courses of 10 week mini-courses offered during the fall semester along with two more from another group offered during the spring semester. These mini-courses discuss everything from Colonial Life to the Nuclear Age.

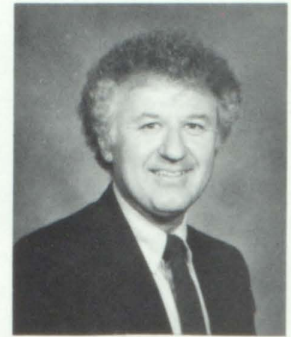

Mr. Gentsch, Social Studies Department Head, said the main function of the Social Studies Department is "to teach American heritage and be a guide for future citizenship. This makes for well-adjusted ladies and gentlemen."

The Social Studies Department attempts to create interaction and communication between the instructor and the students. "We have course offerings which should appeal to all interests and needs of the student body," Mr. Gentsch said.

The department sponsors the Model United Nations program which is supervised by Mr. Gentsch. Several members of the department serve the school in other capacities besides their teaching assignments. Mr. Bechtold is the East Athletic Director; Mr. Burke is the Freshman football and baseball coach, and Mr. Blaies is the Junior Varsity Soccer coach.

Mr. Gentsch stated we have a super Social Studies Department. "We have fun in our teaching," he said, "but we still take it seriously. You still can have fun and learn."

Mr. Gentsch concluded, "Learning about history is very important in a student's high school career. Everybody is going to be a citizen of the U.S. for the rest of their life. Knowing the rights and responsibilities of being a citizen are the most important things that you can learn."

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

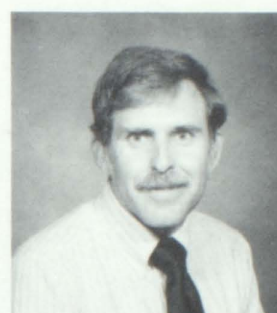

Roy Carpenter

Richard Klauss

Kenneth Schoenebeck

Mr. Carpenter talks with students during open house.

The function of the Foreign Language Department is to introduce and teach the basics of another language. A foreign language produces a students who is able to use his English language more productively.

Mr. Schoenebeck believes, "You really can't function well in your native English language if you don't have anything to compare it to."

A foreign language class is important to students for many reasons. It makes them better in their own language by developing better communication awareness. As people travel in the 21st century, they will need foreign communications more than they do today.

At East, students have a choice of studying four languages. Mr. Carpenter and Mrs. Owens teach Spanish, Mr. Schoenebeck and Mr. Klauss teach German, Mrs. Chaney teaches French, and Mr. Huch teaches Latin. Because none of the classes offered are required, the number of total students involved in foreign language courses is limited.

The Foreign Language Department Staff, however, is very dedicated and qualified. Each teacher has specialized in the language he or she teaches. Mr. Schoenebeck stressed the department's ability "to teach a life-type language" because all of the language teachers have spent years in the foreign countries of the language they teach.

Mr. Schoenebeck has visited and observed many other Foreign Language Departments throughout the state. He considers East students lucky to have teachers who have been in the other countries. If national examinations in which East students have participated are any indication, then our department is one of the best in the state of Illinois.

German, French, and Spanish are offered for four years, and Latin is offered for two years. Each language has a club. The purpose of these clubs is to "further interest in another culture and to provide extracurricular activities out of the classroom, such as Christmas parties, etc."

Although many people take a foreign language, the enrollment has declined during the past seven years. Along with fewer students in school, the decline is also caused by most students only taking a foreign language for two years. According to Mr. Schoenebeck, "Students should take a language for more than two years because it takes the first two years to learn the language. The last two years, then, can be spent using the language." Mr. Schoenebeck feels a foreign language should be taught to every student on campus.

IMC LIBRARY

Bea Goodwin

The Library contains nonfiction books, magazines, and reference books and is open to students from 8:15 a.m. until 3:25 p.m. Last year a new security system was installed to prevent what was becoming the increasing number of missing books. This method has worked very well, according to library sources.

Barbra Molitoris

The Learning Center takes up the other half of the second floor of A Building. Fictional books, audio-visual equipment and material, and typewriters are all in the Learning Center. The Library and Learning Center are helpful places for studying and doing some research or just catching up on assignments.

The Library and Learning Center have a total collection of 18,782 books. 3,424 of these books are fiction and the remaining 15,358 are non-fiction. An average of 10,600 books are checked out each year.

The Library and the Learning Center are staffed by Mr. Clausser, who is the main person in charge, Mrs. Goodwin, and Miss Molitoris. Mrs. Taylor is the IMC secretary.

The Remedial Education Department has three main functions. The first function is to help students who have a learning disability. These are students who otherwise could not function correctly in a normal classroom setting. These students have normal classroom setting. These students have normal I.Q.'s, but they have some problems with dealing in a classroom situation.

The second function is to teach the trainable mentally handicapped students. These students come to school to work under constant supervision. The Remedial Education Department focuses on gearing these students to work successfully in the community in which they live.

The third function of the department is to help the autistic student. These students do not communicate well and require a large amount of personal attention. The staff tries to improve their communication skills through basic, repetitive exercises.

According to Miss Scandrett, Remedial Education teacher, "Every child is an individual with different needs that the teachers must find a way to meet every day." She went on to say, "It's our hope that each student who works through our remedial education program will be a valuable asset to any community in which he or she chooses to live."

All Remedial Education Department instructors have to be certified by the state. "To be a remedial education teacher, a person must be patient, understanding and have a good sense of humor," Miss Scandrett said. The Remedial Education Department instructors at East are well-qualified, well-educated and bring specific expertises to the particular areas in which they teach.

According to Miss Scandrett, "The Remedial Education Staff strive for good, appropriate behavior no matter where the student may be. We want the students to be able to conduct themselves in society, to be able to set their own life goals and to make their life worthwhile," she concluded.

Sir,

I have been fortunate enough to stumble onto this photo collection of the "Senior" members at "Belleville East". There were a few members that decided to remain anonymous; why, I do not know. It has come to my attention that these men and women are constantly trying to overthrow this organization, but have found it quite impossible. A few members of the faculty are always keeping them in line, either by examining their cars in the parking lot, or by chasing them out of the hall ways!

IN MEMORY OF A FRIEND

"O death, where is thy victory? O death where is thy sting? Thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

For all who have faith in the living Savior, death opens the door to an eternity of excitement, peace and joy; an eternity lived in perfect health, in a perfect environment, and with a perfect God.

You may sometimes feel that Michelle's life, which was so brief, was lived in vain. But you must remember that, through faith, Michelle had within her the Eternal Spirit. She has therefore gone into the presence of God where there will be an eternity to perform works and develop character to its fullest. Although her life was brief, she completed a mission, and served a purpose as she lived out a life of love and service. Whether it be in the Student Council, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, the classroom, or wherever, Michelle's presence created a positive and enjoyable atmosphere; her energy, enthusiasm and love were contagious. Her influence will linger for a lifetime in the hearts of many people. She performed her task. Although her life was brief, it certainly was NOT incomplete.

There are no mistakes in God's plan. "We know that in everything God works for good with those who love Him, who are called according to His purpose. Perhaps you do not completely understand how Michelle's death fits this promise of God, but because she did love him and was called according to his purpose, and because God is faithful, you can trust him and be assured that somehow and somehow he will make this work out for his glory and your good.

Certainly, we still feel the pain of Michelle's passing. Yet there is no affliction for which God has provided such tender care. He wants to enter your sorrow. He can become a mighty reality to you now. His comfort is real; his presence is vital; his words are life. To be sure, Michelle's separation from us is but temporary. For the day will come when those in Christ will be reunited. This truly is an exciting and joyful expectation that God sets before us.

This brings to mind a story concerning a custom among the shepherd folk of the Alps. In the summer time when the grass in the lower valley withers and dries up, the shepherds seek to lead their sheep up a winding, thorny, and stony pathway to the high grazing lands. The sheep, reluctant to take the pathway infested with dangers and hardships, turn back and will not follow. The shepherds make repeated attempts, but the timid sheep will not follow. Finally a shepherd reaches into the flock and takes a little lamb and places it under his arm, then reaches in again and takes another lamb, placing it under the other arm. Then he starts up the pathway. Soon the mother sheep starts to follow and afterward the entire flock. At last they ascend the hazardous trail to green pastures.

The Great Shepherd of the sheep, the Lord Jesus Christ, has reached into the flock and picked up a lamb - named Michelle. He did not do it to rob you, but to lead you out and upward. He is the source of life and he wants you to follow him. Will you? If you do, he will lead you to a quality of life unsurpassed in richness and fulness; He will lead you in triumph through all of life's battles and storms. Then when you come to the time of your departure, wouldn't you like to be able to say (as did the Apostle Paul - and Michelle, too) "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will award to me on that day, and not only to me but to also all who have loved his appearing."

Sir,

On the pages to follow, you will discover the abundant number of members that attend "Bellville East." I am trying to find out just what it is that makes these people come here day after day. Sir, I am truly confused. Everyday I hear complaints about the classes, teachers, food and every thing else. Also, there are some members here who always manage to do something wrong, and when they do a loud chorus of "Freshman!" rings out. Why, then, Sir would these people continue to come?!?

UNDERCLASSMEN

This year's enrollment of freshmen was the lowest in the brief history of Belleville East High School. There were only 495 incoming freshmen, 259 boys and 242 were girls. Also 96 new upper class students transferred to Belleville East this year.

The bulk of the freshmen come from the following junior high schools: Belle Valley 18%, Central 15%, Grant 20%, Parochial 8%, Zion 4%, West Jr. High 8%, Whiteside 8%, Wolf Branch 4%. Minority populations attending this year include: 49 Blacks, 11 Spanish, and 29 Apian (Pacific Island).

East offers 190 comprehensive yearly subjects within its 16 departments. In addition to the class-room curriculum, over 125 students per year participate in a work-study program utilizing the area's businesses and industries. Other students are able to gain work experience by joining Office Occupation (O.O.) which enables students to go into school in the morning and have an office job in the afternoon.

Only 13% of the East students are in some type of co-curricular activity, such as football, volleyball, soccer, cross country, tennis, golf, basketball, baseball, wrestling, softball, track, cheerleading, pom pon, concert choir, individual events, flag line, treble choir or swing choir. Students also can select from a large variety of organizations: Archery Club, Art Club, B.E.T.A., F.H.A., Student Council, Thespians, F.C.A., F.C.L., J.A., Lancerlot, Laureate, N.H.S., Class Officers, Yearbook, Pep Club, or one of the foreign language clubs (French, Latin, German or Spanish).

Other facts worth knowing about Belleville East include the following data:

- 25% of the student body have part-time jobs.
- Approximately 1% of the juniors graduate in six semesters instead of the usual eight.
- Second semester of last year the following students failed one or more subjects: Freshmen 184, Sophomores 153, Juniors 148, Seniors 66.
- In addition to a Special Education Department, the East campus houses programs for 31 Trainable (T.M.H.) students, 32 Educable (E.M.H.) students, and 10 Low Educable students.

Counselor's comments on student's actions in school I have never seen

George Bugliar around school except in the office. This student has no manners what so ever. He is constantly getting into fights in the girls restrooms. (Never has won a fight!!) This young man is a problem child!! We have had 5 faculty members resign from our campus in the past 4 years as a result of this student.

Habits, hobbies, etc. of student

Slipping, eating, spitting, skipping classes, and taking a sledge hammer to the faculty cars.

other comments

Most of his teachers have never seen this young man. There are exceptions, for example, basket weaving and ceramics. I can't recommend this child for graduation, or for that matter

I can't recommend him to go on with life.

EDITORS COMMENT

Putting this book together and getting it out has been a time-consuming and rewarding adventure. There were times when it seemed as though nothing would go right: Yet with each others help we always made it through the rough times. The yearbook began amid comments like — "You don't know what you're getting yourself into,"; and "You'll be sorry!"

288 pages (and three ulcers) later, it is finished. Everything is here. A lot of hard work, prayer, and dedication have been put into this book, I hope that you enjoy it.

CONFIDENTIAL NOTES

SECRET SPY AGENCY

2555 West Blvd., Belleville, IL 62221
Phone: 618-235-3300

Sir,
This has been my cumulative report. I regret that I was not able to find out more, but I'm afraid I may soon be discovered. I must truly admit that I do not know the actual purpose of "Belleville East". Although I am overwhelmed by the contradictions and complexities of this institution, I believe its principal mission concerns the business of developing understanding through teaching thinking strategies.
